THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD

When Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of King Herod, behold, magi from the east arrived in Jerusalem, saying, "Where is the newborn king of the Jews? We saw his star at its rising and have come to do him homage." - Mt 2:1-2

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

A stranger in a foreign land, I was exhausted and homesick as my summer Spanish immersion ended in Guatemala. The rusty minivan arriving outside my small residence filled me with joyful hope. I was flying home to the U.S. and would be, at long last, completely happy. Or so I thought. After about half an hour of being home, I thought to myself, "This place is boring. I want to go somewhere." So, I hopped in my car and left to see my friends. As I drove, I wistfully wondered, "Where am I truly at home?"

The feast of Epiphany has a lot to do with our notion of home. Where is our origin? Where are we going? When is our wandering done? Saint Matthew tells us of the Magi, "They were overjoyed at seeing the star." This star will bring them home, to a place where their questing will end, and they will be satisfied. Their real home is neither in the East nor in the earthly Jerusalem. Somehow, their home is wherever this boy and his parents are.

If you're a teenager or older, you probably know by now that every physical home we have is temporary. So, we look up at the countless stars in our proverbial skies: things which bedazzle and beckon us to follow toward peace. The Gospel invites us to behold that — at long last — God has sent us a star to follow home, one that whispers, "Follow me! I will take you home!" Perhaps that star is your spouse. A friend. An opportunity. A cause. An intuition about a new direction. A prayer group. What is it for you? How will you know? It will lead you to Mary and Joseph and their son, and you will be home.

NEWS RELEASE

Statement from the Most Rev. Lawrence T. Persico, Bishop of Erie concerning Fiducia Supplicans

I learned about the new papal document, Fiducia Supplicans (Supplicating Trust), at the same time as the public. Having reviewed it, I'd like to summarize and comment on some key points in an effort to help people understand it.

Let me begin with what the document does not say.

It does not condone same-sex marriage. In fact, it emphasizes that the teaching of the church has not changed: Marriage, as understood by the church, is the union of one man and one woman.

Fiducia Supplicans simply says that anyone who spontaneously asks for a blessing may receive it. People ask me for blessings all the time, sometimes right in a reception line. I do not stop to quiz them about their lives before I give them a blessing. They are expressing a desire to be close to God and that creates an opportunity for me to help them experience God's love and mercy.

In a situation like this, I am blessing the individuals, not their situation. I am imparting God's grace to them through a blessing.

The document addresses not only blessings being given to same-sex couples, but also to couples who may be in what we call an irregular marriage, one in which, for example, someone has not had an annulment before remarrying.

The document clarifies this is to be a spontaneous blessing, not a sacrament, not a liturgical blessing. It is not to be ritualized. It is not to be done with liturgical garments or tied in any context to a sacramental or civil wedding. I would be blessing the individuals, not offering a ritualized or formal liturgical blessing of their relationship.

We are developing a plan to assist our priests, so they understand the nature of a spontaneous blessing. We all need God's blessing, no matter where we are in our spiritual journey. The document does provide some clarification, but again, it does not change the church's teaching on marriage.
